

Social Justice Anti-Empire Alt-News Link List 2022

Updated: June 5, 2022

Note: No nation was designed by God or nature to rule all the world. American political schemers have used concepts like “Manifest Destiny,” “American Exceptionalism” and “hegemony in perpetuity” to violently invade and sack entire continents of people. The concept of American hegemony in perpetuity is a delusion to justify global scale armed robbery of nations’ natural resources and all other assets worth stealing. Foreign policy makers, whether they like it or not, have to learn how to play nicely in the sandbox of life as most children do by age four. This current embracing of global fascism isn’t going to work, as current global economic trends indicate. Thus, the emergence of a multi-polar world is a good thing, and US extreme efforts to stop it via creating a so-called “New Cold War” (and/or hot proxy war such as in Ukraine!) are psychopathological, deluded, self-destructive, criminal as per international law, and will ultimately prove suicidal unless stopped post haste. The following alt-news publishers and writers all know this, but these simple truths are hidden from the majority of American voters and tax payers (by federal government sponsored illegal censorship) in order for corrupt politicians to continue to bilk them of their hard-earned money, further enriching the super-rich, and burdening the poor with ever increasing debts. This is slavery. In an effort to try to reverse these ultimately self-destructive trends and return US democracy to the people, and power over their own countries to all people around the world, this humble systems analyst offers the following link-list of publications that represent most of the last vestiges of the free press in the world. I’m sure there are a few I’ve missed, and suggestions are welcome.

- Regardless as to what the inquisitor adjuncts to the New American Red Scare think, according to The United Nations 1948 Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR) – Article 19 Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression; this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media regardless of frontiers.
- I loath those who refuse to listen to minority voices. In this world dominated by the Global Hegemon, virtually everyone who is not among the super-rich becomes a minority if they resist absorption into the “blob.”

Eastern News Links Worth Reading

For a link library relating to international treatise relating to freedom of expression and press, see: <https://www.ohchr.org/EN/Issues/FreedomOpinion/Pages/Standards.aspx> Americans, believe it or not, have a right, and I believe a duty to read the viewpoints of all people around the world, as they nearly always have more legitimate and honest viewpoints than the self-serving “news product” produced by predatory corporate minions in the US.

A few of the above are pro-democracy. A few others are pro-socialist. Most generally avoid those kinds of political affiliations. Many make it clear both American political parties are simply two sides of the same coin representing primarily corporate interests and not the people. If they are pro-peace, against racism, misogyny and economic sanctions, and support drastically reducing the ever-widening wealth gaps within and between nations they are probably alt-news. If they level ridiculous vague unproven allegations using unnamed sources like: “pentagon spokesman,” “administration official,” “intelligence sources” and so on directed towards one of CIA/DoD’s target nations, I’ll delete it as I’ve always loathed bullies.

The ever-increasing US policy makers defiance of laws and values are essential components of the United States’ explicitly stated goal of global hegemony in perpetuity most recently expressed as an American version of “rules based international order.”

Nations who resist absorption into the Euro-American “blob” get smeared with American funded defamation, color revolutions, civil and international wars, and economic sanctions.

Journalists who attempt to cast light on this grim despotic situation get covert and overt defamation, economic isolation, harassment, imprisonment (1, 2, 3, 4), if they’re lucky exile, and in some cases, death (1, 2, 3, 4).

Though so tactfully and deceptively written, it was really H. Clinton that kicked-off this new Cold War with her article titled: America’s Pacific Century – The future of politics will be decided in Asia, not Afghanistan or Iraq, and the United States will be right at the center of the action. <https://foreignpolicy.com/2011/10/11/americas-pacific-century>.

Due to unprecedented media control in the US and therefore worldwide, foreign leaders are not permitted to defend themselves in the court of public opinion. That is not likely to change in the near future due to news media monopolies now rebranded as media consolidation.

How did mainstream media get harnessed so tightly to the military-industrial-education-medical-legal-complex?

Media Consolidation

The Telecommunications Act of 1996, signed by President Bill Clinton, removed restrictions on media ownership. Prior to the law, there were rules prohibiting companies from owning broadcast stations, cable stations, newspapers, and websites in the same broadcast area. Once the restrictions disappeared, large corporations strengthened their dominance of media markets through mergers and buyouts. Small outlets were purchased or failed because they could not compete.

Now there are news deserts where there are no daily local newspapers.

Giant corporations own more and more of our news media. Focused only on the bottom line, they’re cutting journalists and gutting newsrooms nationwide.

The FCC has long favored the interests of these conglomerates — and has done nothing to expand media ownership among women and people of color.

Consolidation has also long run rampant in the cable and broadband industries, where companies like Comcast would rather spend billions to kill off their competitors than improve their service or build out their networks to unserved and underserved communities.

How Media Consolidation Threatens Democracy: 857 Channels (and Nothing On) - Trump's FCC plans to continue a decades-long, lobbyist-backed effort to allow media consolidation, helping corporate bottom lines but hurting independent journalism, by John Light, May 12, 2017

The USA needs to stop attacking other nations and learn how to cooperate with other nations to make this world into the paradise it could be. Instead, look at what we have now:

UNHCR: A record 100 million people forcibly displaced worldwide, published May 23, 2022

That should have been headline news around the world.

US foreign policies and the politicians that vote for them instigating and driving the wars, and imposing the economic sanctions that cause 99.9% of that vast ocean of human misery, should be named and shamed into reversing their corrupt activities, or voted out of office and in many cases prosecuted in the ICC, in a fair and just world.

The last survivors of the free press fly under the banner of Alt-News. They are a battle-hardened bunch from their inception. Especially since 2017 they have come under the withering fire of the corporate controlled western hegemonic war machine and its effort to totally scrub the internet of all real investigative journalism thereby killing off the free press once and for all. Google, with its near monopoly on search engine results, has played an illegal leading role in that largely successful suppression effort. This process however is not new.

I was 19 years in 1975 when someone blew up the alt-newspaper office in Milwaukee, Wisconsin where I was a university student. That terrorist attack was generally assumed to be the work of the “Red Squad” in the Milwaukee Police Department.

Now the federal government, major browsers, and webhosts take the lead de-ranking alt-newspapers, intimidating sponsors, friends and family of alt-news writers (as this writer knows from personal experience), encouraging frivolous but expensive to defend litigation, and so on.

In order to reverse the above outlined horrific trends essentially reversing the outcome of the last US Civil War (in the 1860s), and eliminating Americans’ First Amendment rights, the reader of this link-list is invited to share it widely with all those who value and cherish truth, justice and freedom, as does this writer. Only five years ago the above news links could be found through ordinary google searches. Not anymore. The US has, tragically, lost its way, and only the truth can set us, and the world free again. “Free at last” as Dr. Martin Luther King hoped and dreamed? Not yet, but it is possible if enough like-minded people work together to make it happen. Then, Louis Armstrong’s song “What A Wonderful World” will become a reality for us, our children, and children’s children’s children.

Take a break and start reading some real news for a change.

It’s often not a pretty picture, but knowing is better than not knowing, and the ostrich approach to life has certain “liabilities” associated with it. Then...

Because of my academic background, I enjoy trying to fit the pieces of fragmented news into larger schemata. Thus, I often incorporate more history and law into my work than most alt-news writers and my articles tend to be longer often turning into books.

I was posting most of my work on academia.edu, however have been unable to post my most recent work relating to the Ukraine proxy war for some odd reason.
